

Advising Students about Higher Education

Date: 23rd September 2010
Times: 8.30 a.m. – 4.30 p.m.
Venue: University of East Anglia

Background Information

Deciding whether to go into Higher Education can be a difficult decision for some students. This workshop will provide you with sufficient background information to guide them into making the right choice and remove some of the uncertainties facing a continued education.

Aims

To enable staff to understand:

1. The structure of higher education opportunities in Norfolk and across the UK
2. The different types of higher education programmes available to young people in Norfolk and across the UK
3. The personal, social, academic and career benefits of higher level learning for young people
4. How UCAS applications and institutional admissions processes work
5. The main sources of information available to support young people with higher education choices
6. How students are financed
7. Strategies to address the main transition issues faced by students applying for and entering higher education.

Target Group

Careers Co-ordinators and Advisers; Information and advisory staff in schools and colleges; Community IAG Staff and Adult Guidance Workers; Connexions Personal Advisers

Costs

This opportunity, including lunch and refreshments, is provided free of charge.
